STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Following the recommendations of the Committee on the Financial System (Narasimham Committee), the Reserve Bank of India has laid down certain norms for income recognition and provisioning and also for capital adequacy in relation to risk weighted assets of banks. These norms have been designed to put the financial accounting standards of Indian banks on a sound footing in line with current international practice. Following the introduction of these norms, all the corresponding new banks as defined in the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 and the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1980 (hereafter referred to as the nationalised banks) as well as the State Bank of India will have to build up their capital base substantially over the next three years. All the banks have to ensure that their total capital equals at least 8 per cent of their risk weighted assets by 31st March, 1996. The banks having overseas operations will have to achieve this norm by 31st March, 1994.

2. Achievement of the prescribed capital adequacy norm is essential for the basic financial health of the banking system. It is also essential for its international credibility as banks all over the world are adopting the norm laid down by the Committee on Banking Regulations and Supervisory Practices set up by the Bank of International Settlements.

3. At present the retire paid up capital of the nationalised banks stands vested in and allotted to the Central Government. The Central Government have been contributing to the paid up capital of these banks during the last few years. During the period 1985-1986 to 1992-1993, Government have contributed Rs. 4000 crores to the paid up capital of these banks. A sum of Rs. 5700 crores has been provided in the current year's budget. Since resources of the Government are limited and funds are required for other priority areas, it will not be possible for the Government to contribute the substantial amounts now required by the nationalised banks for meeting the new prudential norms. Government have, therefore, decided that the nationalised banks which are in a position to do so may be allowed to approach the capital market to raise fresh equity to meet their shortfall in capital requirements. The additional capital thus mobilised will help the banks to expand their lending. Government will, however, continue to retain majority ownership and therefore effective control in the public sector banks.

4. In order to give effect to the above decision, it has become necessary to amend the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 and the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1980. The proposed amendments, inter-alia provide for the following:—

(i) The Board of Directors of the nationalised banks may, after consultation with the Reserve Bank of India and with the previous sanction of the Central Government, raise their paid up capital by public issue of shares subject to the condition that the Central Government shall at all times hold not less than 51 per cent of the paid up capital of the bank;

(ii) The authorised capital of every nationalised bank shall be divided into 150 crores fully paid up shares of Rs. 10/- each;

(iii) The Central Government may, after consultation with the Reserve Bank of India and by notification in the Official Gazette, increase or reduce the authorised capital subject to the condition that the authorised capital shall not exceed Rs. , 3000 crores or be less than Rs. 1500 crores;

(iv) The shares of a nationalised bank not held by the Central Government shall be freely transferable;

(v) No shareholder other than the Central Government shall be entitled to exercise voting rights in respect of any shares held by him in excess of one per cent of the total voting rights of all the shareholders of the bank.

5. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

5. The matters in respect of which schemes may be made by the Central Government after consultation with the Reserve Bank or the matters in respect of which regulations may be made by the Board of Directors of the corresponding new bank after consultation with the Reserve Bank and with the previous sanction of the Central Government are matters of administrative detail or procedure.
